

SkyTime

Flight companion app · Personal brand document

01 · BRAND STRATEGY

Mission

Turn every hour in the air into time well spent · whether you're connected or not.

Vision

Become the default companion app for every long-haul traveler · the first thing you open after your boarding pass.

Values

Simplicity · Honesty ·
Intentionality

Target audience

Ambitious 20–32 year olds · students, digital nomads, young professionals. Tech-savvy, design-conscious, hate wasted time.

Brand positioning

Not a flight tracker. Not an entertainment app. A personal planning layer for the time between takeoff and landing · online or offline.

USP · Unique selling point

SkyTime is the only app that tells you not just when you land · but how to land feeling good.

Elevator pitch · 30 sec

"I'm Kiana, and I'm solving one of the most overlooked problems in travel · wasted time at 35,000 feet. My app SkyTime turns your flight into the most productive hours of your day. No friction, no fluff · just a smart plan that works the moment you board."

02 · VISUAL IDENTITY

Color palette · Cloud Minimal

Heading font

Inter · Clean, modern, highly legible at all sizes. Used for all headings and UI labels.

Body font

DM Sans · Geometric, friendly without being soft. Pairs perfectly with Inter for longer copy.

03 · VERBAL IDENTITY

Tagline

Your time. Your altitude.

Calm

Never anxious, never hype. Speaks like a composed co-pilot. "Here's your plan for the next 9 hours."

Direct

No fluff, no filler. Every word earns its place. "Focus block: 2 hrs. You've done this before."

Honest

Says what it is. Doesn't oversell. "This is a suggestion, not a rule."

Do

Short, confident sentences

Address the user directly

Use time as the frame ("in 3 hours")

Plain language, no jargon

Don't

Exclamation points or hype

Words like "amazing", "supercharge"

Passive voice

Over-explain features

LinkedIn bio

Building SkyTime · a flight companion app that helps travelers plan, focus, and arrive well. Turns long-haul flight time into structured, intentional hours.

Intro email

Subject: SkyTime · quick intro Hi [name], I'm building SkyTime, a flight companion app for long-haul travelers. It builds a smart in-flight schedule so you land focused, not drained · with wifi or without. — Kiana

Imagery style

Minimal. Aerial. Dark with soft light sources. Think: window seat at dusk, runway lights, cloud layers. No stock photos. Abstract and atmospheric.
